New AUC on Distal Radius Fractures Builds on Clinical Practice Guideline

AAOS

The AAOS Board of Directors approved the release of a new set of Appropriate Use Criteria (AUC) on the Treatment of Distal Radius Fractures. As with other AAOS AUC, this resource provides clinician with an algorithm-style tool for choosing treatment pathways based on the patient's presenting indications as entered by the clinician. The treatment scenarios provided by an AUC arise from the recommendations in a Clinical Practice Guideline (CPG)—in this case, the completely revised CPG on the Management of Distal Radius Fractures approved by the Board in December 2020.
